Orange Roulette is a quick yet unexpectedly dark game where you engage in Russian roulette against a series of oranges, seeking to escape your captors. You control a humanoid orange, held captive and forced to play Russian roulette against its will. Like traditional Russian roulette, Orange Roulette is entirely luck-based, but you do have some options – spin the cylinder, pull the trigger at yourself, or target your opponent. This game surprisingly turns the concept of oranges playing with a gun into a nerve-wracking experience. You'll need nerves of steel and a great deal of luck to conquer all four opponents and reach the end of this orange-themed adventure without getting defeated!
